IT Moving and Storage Solutions

"The logical solution for IT logistics"

OUR COMPANY

Designed for the IT customer, including industry business partners, solution integrators, manufacturers and their end users, IT Moving and Storage Solutions provides an easy, one-stop service for the transporting, storing and disposing of high technology equipment. Our select network of quality logistic providers enables us to give our customers full domestic and international service while offering customized solutions that best fits their IT requirements.

MOVING

There are many transportation companies in the world, but who can you trust to move your IT equipment? IT Moving and Storage Solutions only uses top moving providers. These providers are leaders in the industry and are experts in packing and delivering information technology products. Our agreements with these companies, allow us to share our competitive pricing with our customers while providing a safe, reliable service.

STORAGE

Whether you require short or long term storage to meet your IT business needs, ITMASS's network of over 120 storage facilities can always hold your equipment in a safe and secure location. These locations are also able to transport your equipment to your desired location in a quick and efficient manner for staging projects or single shipment deliveries.

DISPOSAL

ITMASS can efficiently coordinate the safe disposal of your pc's, laptops, phone systems, networking equipment, mainframe and mid-range equipment, printers and monitors as well as ensure that your confidential data is destroyed and documented for your auditing purposes. ITMASS can purchase this equipment from you, turning your unwanted assets into profits for your company.
